

MSRB Glossary of Municipal Securities Terms

Third Edition, August 2013

About the Glossary

The MSRB's glossary of terms used in the municipal securities industry is intended to help investors and other market participants get a basic understanding of commonly used municipal market terminology.

The brief definitions included in this glossary are intended for educational purposes only and are not comprehensive or official MSRB definitions. The MSRB Board of Directors does not review or adopt the definitions, which have no legal authority under MSRB rules or any other federal securities laws. Instead, the definitions reflect the consensus of industry professionals about the general usage of these terms in the municipal market. Many of these terms are also used in other segments of the securities industry and may have a different meaning when used in those other contexts.

The MSRB periodically reviews the glossary to respond to continued development and change in the industry. Please submit comments and suggestions using the MSRB's online contact form at <http://www.msrb.org/contactusForm.aspx>

In 1985, the MSRB published the first edition of its Glossary of Municipal Securities Terms. The MSRB's glossary was based on the Glossary of Municipal Bond Terms published by the Division of Bond Finance of the State of Florida in 1983. Years after its first publication, the demand for the MSRB's glossary remains strong, attesting to the need for such a reference in the industry.

The MSRB updated the glossary in 2004 and again in 2013 with the assistance of a subcommittee of its Professional Qualifications Advisory Committee. The MSRB also received assistance from a number of industry professionals who reviewed the glossary.

About the MSRB

The MSRB protects investors, state and local governments and other municipal entities, and the public interest by promoting a fair and efficient municipal securities market. The MSRB fulfills this mission by regulating the municipal securities firms, banks and municipal advisors that engage in municipal securities and advisory activities. To further protect market participants, the MSRB provides market transparency through its Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA[®]) website, the official repository for information on all municipal bonds. The MSRB also serves as an objective resource on the municipal market, conducts extensive education and outreach to market stakeholders, and provides market leadership on key issues. The MSRB is a Congressionally-chartered, self-regulatory organization governed by a 21-member board of directors that has a majority of public members, in addition to representatives of regulated entities. The MSRB is subject to oversight by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

ABATEMENT CLAUSE – A provision of a lease that relieves a lessee of the obligation to make lease payments in the event that the leased property cannot be utilized (e.g., because of construction delays, property damage or other causes). See: CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION; LEASE RENTAL BOND.
Compare: ANNUAL APPROPRIATION PLEDGE; NON-APPROPRIATION CLAUSE.

ACCELERATION – A provision present in many bond contracts providing that the unpaid principal becomes immediately due and payable upon the occurrence of one or more specified events of default, either events that automatically result in acceleration or events that result in acceleration only after the issuer or obligor has failed to cure the default after notice. See: DEFAULT.

ACCEPTANCE RISK – The risk to an investor that a lessee in a certificate of participation or lease rental bond financing might not occupy a newly constructed or renovated facility (and thereby might not begin making lease payments) because of dissatisfaction with the final construction or condition of the financed facility. See: CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION; LEASE RENTAL BOND.

ACCRETED VALUE – See: COMPOUND ACCRETED VALUE.

ACCRETION – The process by which an increment of value is added, actually or theoretically, to an asset. See: CAPITAL APPRECIATION BOND. Compare: AMORTIZATION.

ACCRETION OF DISCOUNT – An accounting process by which the book value of a security purchased at a discount from par is increased during the security's holding period. The accretion reflects the increase in the security's value as it approaches the redemption or maturity date. The value of the security will grow at the interest rate implied by the discounted issuance price, the value at maturity and the term to maturity. Under a "straight line" accretion method, the amount of yearly accretion is the same for all years and is equal to the product of the total amount of the discount divided by the number of years to redemption. Under a "constant interest" accretion method, the amount of the yearly accretion increases as the redemption date approaches and for any semi-annual period is equal to (a) the original semi-annual yield to maturity multiplied by the current book value less (b) the current interest payment. See: COMPOUND ACCRETED VALUE; DISCOUNT; MARKET DISCOUNT BOND; ORIGINAL ISSUE DISCOUNT. Compare: AMORTIZATION OF PREMIUM.

ACCRUED INTEREST – The dollar amount of interest, based upon the stated rate of interest, that has accumulated on a security from (and including) the most recent interest payment date (or, in certain circumstances, the dated date or other stated date), up to but not including the date of settlement of a transaction in such security. Accrued interest is paid to the seller by the purchaser. Accrued interest is usually calculated on the basis of a 360-day year (assuming that each month has 30 days), but alternative day counting methods (most commonly based on a 365- or 366-day year counting actual days elapsed) are used for many securities that bear interest at a variable rate and for certain other types of securities (e.g., some municipal notes). The formula for computing accrued interest based on a 360-day year is as follows:

$$\text{Accrued Interest} = \text{Interest Rate} \times \text{Par Value} \times \frac{\text{Number of Days}}{360}$$

EXAMPLES:

- (1) City Y sold a $10,000,000 new issue of municipal bonds on August 15. The bonds were dated June 1 and settled on September 15. The interest rate on the bonds was 4 percent.

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{On settlement date} \\ \text{accrued interest paid} \\ \text{by underwriter} \end{array} = .04 \times $10,000,000 \times \frac{104}{360} = $115,555.56$$

- (2) Ms. Smith bought $100,000 of municipal bonds in the secondary market. The bonds had a 4 percent coupon rate and paid interest semi-annually on December 1 and June 1. Settlement date was April 12.

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{On settlement date} \\ \text{accrued interest} \\ \text{payable by Ms. Smith} \end{array} = .04 \times $100,000 \times \frac{131}{360} = $1,455.56$$

ACCUMULATION ACCOUNT – An account established by the sponsor of a unit investment trust into which securities purchased for the portfolio of the trust are placed until the trust is formally created and the securities are deposited into the trust. See: BOND FUND.

ADDITIONAL BONDS – An issue of bonds having a lien on the same revenues or other security pledged to outstanding bonds. Additional bonds may be issued on a parity with the outstanding bonds, although in some cases additional bonds may have either a junior lien or a senior lien on pledged revenues or other security. Additional bonds are generally issued under the same bond contract. See: JUNIOR LIEN BONDS; OUTSTANDING BONDS; PARITY BONDS; PLEDGED REVENUES; SENIOR LIEN BONDS.

ADDITIONAL BONDS COVENANT or TEST – The financial test, sometimes referred to as a “parity test,” that must be satisfied under the bond contract securing outstanding revenue bonds or other types of bonds as a condition to issuing additional bonds. Typically, the test would require that historical revenues (plus, in some cases, future estimated revenues) exceed projected debt service requirements for both the outstanding issue and the proposed issue by a certain ratio. See: ADDITIONAL BONDS; COVENANT.

ADDITIONAL TAKEDOWN – See: SPREAD.

ADJUSTABLE RATE – See: VARIABLE RATE.

ADJUSTED TRADE – An offsetting pair of transactions, executed in violation of the SEC’s anti-fraud rules and the MSRB’s pricing rules, in which a municipal securities dealer purchases a security above or below the prevailing market price while executing an offsetting trade to reflect a gain or loss on the sale of those securities at a price not at market, and the contra-party purchases a different security from the municipal securities dealer at an adjusted price that exceeds the security’s market value by approximately the same amount. These trades would permit a party to the transaction to liquidate portfolio holdings without accurately reflecting profits or losses.

AD VALOREM TAX – A direct tax calculated “according to value” of property. Ad valorem tax is based on an assigned valuation (market or assessed) of real property and, in certain cases, on a valuation of tangible or intangible personal property. In virtually all jurisdictions, ad valorem tax is a lien on the property enforceable by seizure and sale of the property. An ad valorem tax is normally the one substantial tax that may be raised or lowered by a local governing body without the sanction of superior levels of government (although constitutional or statutory restrictions such as tax rate limitations may limit this right). See: MILLAGE; TAX RATE LIMIT.

ADVANCE REFUNDING – For purposes of certain tax and securities laws and regulations, a refunding in which the refunded issue remains outstanding for a period of more than 90 days after the issuance of the refunding issue. Typically, such refunded bonds are secured solely by an escrow funded with the proceeds of the refunding bonds. The proceeds of the refunding issue are generally invested in Treasury securities or federal agency securities (although other instruments are sometimes used), with principal and interest from these investments being used (with limited exceptions) to pay principal and interest on the refunded issue. Bonds are “escrowed to maturity” when the proceeds of the refunding issue are deposited in an escrow account for investment in an amount sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the issue being refunded on the original interest payment and maturity dates, although in some cases an issuer may expressly reserve its right (pursuant to certain procedures delineated by the SEC) to exercise an early call of bonds that have been escrowed to maturity. Bonds are considered “prerefunded” when the refunding issue’s proceeds are escrowed only until a call date or dates on the refunded issue, with the refunded issue redeemed at that time. The Internal Revenue Code and regulations thereunder restrict the yield that may be earned on investment of the proceeds of an advance refunding issue.

Refundings in which the refunded bonds are outstanding for less than 90 days are not advance refundings for federal tax purposes, but they may be advance refundings under state law or the provisions of bond contracts requiring specified comfort that the escrow securing payment of the refunded bonds is adequate. There are several methods of advance refunding or achieving the same practical effect as an advance refunding:

Crossover Refunding – A method of advance refunding in which the revenue stream originally pledged to secure the refunded bonds continues to be used to pay debt service on the refunded bonds until they mature or are called. At that time the pledged revenues “crossover” to pay debt service on the refunding bonds and escrowed securities are used to pay the refunded bonds. During the period when both the refunded and the refunding bonds are outstanding, debt service on the refunding bonds is paid from interest earnings on the invested proceeds of the refunding bonds.

Forward Refunding – An agreement, usually between an issuer and the underwriter, whereby the issuer agrees to issue bonds on a specified future date and an underwriter agrees to purchase such bonds on such date. The proceeds of such bonds, when issued, will be used to refund the issuer’s outstanding bonds. Typically, a forward refunding is used where the bonds to be refunded are not permitted to be advance refunded on a tax-exempt basis under the Internal Revenue Code. In such a case, the issuer agrees to issue, and the underwriter agrees to purchase, the new issue of bonds on a future date that would effect a current refunding. See: EXTENDED SETTLEMENT.

Synthetic Refunding – An arrangement that allows an issuer to generate debt service savings that it would realize if it were permitted to advance refund the outstanding bonds. This agreement is generally used by issuers that either choose not to or are not permitted under the Internal Revenue Code to advance refund outstanding bonds on a tax-exempt basis. Such arrangements generally require an issuer to enter into an agreement with a counter-party and receive an upfront payment from the counter-party in return for a specified action of the issuer or a right to take a specified action by the counter-party at a future date, typically a date on which the issuer can call the outstanding bonds and effect a current refunding. For example, on the future call date, the counter-party may have the right to require the issuer to issue refunding bonds with certain specified terms for purchase by the counter-party. Alternatively, the issuer may issue variable rate refunding bonds and have the right to require the counter-party to enter into an interest rate swap on specified terms.

See: ARBITRAGE; DEFEASANCE; ESCROW DEPOSIT AGREEMENT; REFUNDING; SLGS; TRANSFERRED PROCEEDS; NET CASH REFUNDING; FULL CASH AND GROSS REFUND; SWAP. Compare: CURRENT REFUNDING.

ADVANCE REFUNDING DOCUMENT – The refunding escrow deposit agreement or its equivalent prepared in connection with the advance refunding of an outstanding issue of municipal securities. See: ADVANCE REFUNDING; ESCROW DEPOSIT AGREEMENT.

AFFIRMATION – An acknowledgment transmitted by an institutional customer or its agent through the facilities of an automated confirmation system indicating that the customer agrees with the details of a transaction previously confirmed through the system by the municipal securities dealer on the other side of the transaction. This is sometimes referred to as an inter-dealer confirmation. See: DTC INSTITUTIONAL ID SYSTEM. Compare: CONFIRMATION.

AGENCY SECURITIES – A term for securities issued by a federal agency or certain federally chartered entities (often referred to as government-sponsored enterprises or GSEs). Agency securities typically are not guaranteed by the federal government, particularly those of GSEs. Agency securities also are generally exempt from the registration and prospectus requirements of the Securities Act of 1933. Securities of the following entities are generally considered agency securities although the terms of a bond contract or escrow deposit agreement may further limit what are considered to be agency securities for purposes of that contract or agreement: Federal Agricultural Mortgage Corporation (Farmer Mac); Federal Farm Credit Banks Funding Corporation (FFCB or Farm Credit); Federal Home Loan Bank System (FHLB or Home Loan); Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (FHLMC or Freddie Mac); Federal Housing Administration (FHA); Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA or Fannie Mae); Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA or Ginnie Mae); and Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). Compare: TREASURY SECURITIES.

AGENCY TRADE – Transactions in which a municipal securities dealer acts only as an agent for the customer, bringing together a buyer and a seller. The dealer makes a commission on the sale. See: "AS AGENT" TRADE; Compare: PRINCIPAL TRADE.

AGREED UPON PROCEDURES LETTER – A letter from an auditor to the underwriters of a new issue of municipal securities setting forth the procedures undertaken with respect to the review of specified financial information (e.g., interim period financial statements or other information not covered by audited statements) appearing in the official statement and providing certain conclusions regarding the information with respect to which such review procedures were applied. Compare: COMFORT LETTER.

AGREEMENT AMONG UNDERWRITERS (AAU) – The contract among the members of an underwriting syndicate establishing the syndicate rules, including the rights, duties and commitments of the senior manager and the other syndicate members with respect to the new issue of municipal securities being underwritten. In a competitive bid underwriting, the AAU is sometimes referred to as a syndicate account letter. The agreement among underwriters is also sometimes referred to as the underwriting agreement. See: SYNDICATE; SYNDICATE ACCOUNT LETTER; UNDERWRITING AGREEMENT. Compare: SELLING GROUP AGREEMENT.

ALL IN COST or ALL INCLUSIVE COST (AIC) – (1) A measurement of the total cost of a bond financing, expressed as a discount rate calculated using the present value of all debt service payments on the issue and the total proceeds of the issue. For purposes of this calculation, the amount of proceeds is adjusted by any accrued interest, original issue discount, original issue premium and costs of the financing (e.g., costs of issuance, credit enhancement fees, underwriter's spread, etc.).

(2) For a variable rate demand obligation issue, the measure of costs expressed as a percentage that includes the cost of the liquidity facility, remarketing fees, interest payments and administrative fees.

ALLOCATION –The process of setting bonds apart for the purpose of distribution to syndicate members. This term is often used interchangeably with "allotment." See: RETENTION.

ALL OR NONE (AON) – (1) A type of offering in which a party interested in purchasing the securities is required to buy (or bid for) all of the securities being offered if it wishes to buy any. Municipal securities dealers bidding to underwrite a primary offering often (but not always) are required to bid on an all or none basis.

(2) In the secondary market, an all or none buy or sell order signifies that an execution must include all of the securities.

ALLOTMENT – (1) The process of setting bonds apart for the purpose of distribution to syndicate members. This term is often used interchangeably with "allocation."

(2) A syndicate member's distribution of bonds by means of the allocation process. See: RETENTION.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX (AMT) – Taxation based on an alternative method of calculating federal income tax under the Internal Revenue Code. Interest on certain private activity bonds is subject to the AMT. See: INTERNAL REVENUE CODE; PRIVATE ACTIVITY BONDS.

ALTERNATIVE TRADING SYSTEM (ATS) – An entity that provides a platform for bringing together purchasers and sellers of securities or for otherwise performing functions commonly performed by an exchange. Participants are typically broker-dealers, including municipal securities dealers, or institutional investors that purchase securities or offer securities for sale by way of an offering or a bid-wanted procedure. The system operator must be registered under SEC Rule ATS as a broker-dealer or a securities exchange.

AMERICAN RECOVERY AND REINVESTMENT ACT OF 2009 (ARRA) – A federal law that, among other things, authorized the issuance of Build America Bonds and certain other municipal securities, through December 31, 2010, as taxable tax-credit bonds or direct pay subsidy bonds. The Act also and temporarily expanded the scope of bonds that could be issued as bank qualified bonds. See: BUILD AMERICA BONDS; CREBs; DIRECT PAY SUBSIDY BONDS; TAX CREDIT BONDS.

AMORTIZATION – The process of paying the principal amount of an issue of securities by periodic payments either directly to bondholders or to a sinking fund for the benefit of bondholders. See: DEBT SERVICE; DEBT SERVICE SCHEDULE.

AMORTIZATION OF PREMIUM – An accounting process by which the book value of a security purchased at a premium above par or the accreted value is decreased during the security's holding period. The amortization reflects the decrease in the security's value as it approaches the redemption or maturity date. Under a "straight line" amortization method, the amount of the yearly amortization is the same for all years and is equal to the product of the total amount of the premium divided by the number of years to redemption or maturity. Under a "constant interest" amortization method, the amount of the yearly amortization decreases as the redemption or maturity date approaches and for any semi-annual period is equal to (a) the current interest payment less (b) the original semi-annual yield to maturity multiplied by the current book value. See: ORIGINAL ISSUE PREMIUM; PREMIUM. Compare: ACCRETION OF DISCOUNT.

AMORTIZATION SCHEDULE – A table showing the periodic repayment of an amount of indebtedness, such as a mortgage or bond. This table often shows interest payments in addition to principal repayments. See: DEBT SERVICE SCHEDULE. Compare: MATURITY SCHEDULE.

AMT BOND – A tax-exempt bond whose interest is subject to the alternative minimum tax. See: ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX; PRIVATE ACTIVITY BOND; TAX-EXEMPT BOND. Compare: NON-AMT BOND; TAXABLE SECURITY.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION PLEDGE – A pledge typically found in the bond contract for lease revenue bonds or securing a certificate of participation financing that commits the issuer or other obligor to make lease payments or other periodic debt service payments but only to the extent that funds are budgeted and appropriated on an annual basis by the issuer's governing body. The governing body is not legally obligated to make such appropriation in any year. An annual appropriation pledge typically is used only in connection with projects that are considered to be essential to the issuer's operations and therefore the governing body is likely to appropriate the money needed to pay debt service on an on-going basis. In many jurisdictions, this clause permits a borrowing entity to undertake a long-term certificate of participation or other lease revenue obligation financing without technically incurring debt, thereby avoiding statutory or constitutional debt limitations and referendum requirements because the lease payments are characterized as payments for use of the facilities rather than as payments on a promise to repay bonded debt. See: CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION; LEASE RENTAL BOND; NON-APPROPRIATION CLAUSE. Compare: ABATEMENT CLAUSE.

ANNUAL DEBT SERVICE – See: DEBT SERVICE.

ANNUAL FINANCIAL INFORMATION – Financial information or operating data of the type included in the final official statement with respect to the issuer or an obligated person. Rule 15c2-12 obligates underwriters for primary offerings of municipal securities to ensure that the issuer or other obligated person has undertaken to provide such information or data on an annual basis to the MSRB's EMMA system. See: CONTINUING DISCLOSURE; CONTINUING DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT; RULE 15c2-12.

ANTI-FRAUD PROVISIONS – This term usually refers to the provisions of federal law prohibiting fraud (typically in the form of material omissions or misstatements or deceptive devices, schemes or conduct) in the issuance, purchase and sale of securities, regardless of whether such securities are subject to registration with the SEC. These include Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, Rule 10b-5 and other related rules. Similar provisions appear in the securities laws of certain states. See: BLUE-SKY LAWS; RULE 10b-5; SECURITIES ACT OF 1933; SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934.

ANY-INTEREST-DATE CALL or REDEMPTION – See: REDEMPTION PROVISIONS.

ANY TIME CALL or REDEMPTION – See: REDEMPTION PROVISIONS.

APPROPRIATION CALL or REDEMPTION – See: REDEMPTION PROVISIONS.

APPROVING OPINION – See: LEGAL OPINION.

ARBITRAGE – (1) With respect to the issuance of municipal securities, arbitrage usually refers to the difference between the interest paid on tax-exempt bonds and the interest earned by investing the proceeds of the tax-exempt bonds in higher-yielding taxable securities. Federal income tax laws generally restrict the ability to earn arbitrage in connection with tax-exempt bonds or other federally tax-advantaged bonds. See: ARBITRAGE REBATE; ARBITRAGE REBATE FUND; DIRECT PAY SUBSIDY BONDS; TAX CREDIT BONDS; TAX-EXEMPT BONDS; YIELD REDUCTION PAYMENT; YIELD RESTRICTION.

(2) Generally, transactions by which securities are bought and sold in different markets at the same time for the sake of the profit arising from a difference in prices in the two markets.

ARBITRAGE BONDS – Bonds initially issued on a tax-exempt or other federally tax-advantaged basis that are formally deemed by the Internal Revenue Service to violate federal arbitrage regulations. If the Internal Revenue Service finds that tax-exempt bonds are “arbitrage bonds,” the interest becomes retroactively taxable and therefore is included in each bondholder’s gross income for federal income tax purposes. However, the issuer and/or related parties may make payments to the IRS in return for the IRS not declaring the bonds taxable. Similarly, certain federal tax benefits are lost if other types of federally tax-advantaged bonds are found by the Internal Revenue Service to be “arbitrage bonds.” See: ARBITRAGE. Compare: DIRECT PAY SUBSIDY BONDS; TAXABLE MUNICIPAL SECURITY; TAX CREDIT BONDS; TAX-EXEMPT BOND.

ARBITRAGE CERTIFICATE – A document executed by the issuer of tax-exempt or other federally tax-advantaged bonds at the time of initial issuance certifying as to various matters relating to compliance with federal income tax laws and regulations, including arbitrage rules. Conduit borrowers may also execute an arbitrage certificate. This term is often used interchangeably with “tax certificate.” See: ARBITRAGE.

ARBITRAGE EARNINGS – Investment earnings on bond proceeds and certain related funds that exceed the bond yield. See: ARBITRAGE.

ARBITRAGE REBATE – A payment made by an issuer to the federal government in connection with an issue of tax-exempt or other federally tax-advantaged bonds. The payment represents the amount, if any, of arbitrage earnings on bond proceeds and certain other related funds, except for earnings that are not required to be rebated under limited exemptions provided under the Internal Revenue Code. An issuer generally is required to calculate, once every five years during the life of its bonds, whether or not an arbitrage rebate payment must be made. See: ARBITRAGE; ARBITRAGE EARNINGS; ARBITRAGE REBATE FUND.

ARBITRAGE REBATE FUND or ACCOUNT – A fund typically established under the bond contract for tax-exempt or other federally tax-advantaged bonds in which arbitrage earnings from investments in various funds and accounts holding bond proceeds are accumulated in order to make arbitrage rebate payments to the federal government under the Internal Revenue Code. See: ARBITRAGE EARNINGS; ARBITRAGE REBATE.

ARBITRAGE TRADING ACCOUNT – An account used to engage in market transactions intended to earn arbitrage profits. See: ARBITRAGE.

ARBITRAGE YIELD – See: BOND YIELD.

ARBITRATION – An alternative dispute resolution system.

“AS AGENT” TRADE – A securities transaction executed by a municipal securities dealer, acting as a broker, on behalf of and under the instruction of another party. The municipal securities dealer does not act in a principal capacity and may be compensated by a commission or fee (which must be disclosed to the party for whom it is acting) rather than by a mark-up. To function as a customer’s agent, a municipal securities dealer must disclose or express willingness to disclose the identity of the other side of the transaction. See: AGENCY TRADE; CUSTOMER TRADE; INTER-DEALER TRADE. Compare: PRINCIPAL TRADE.

ASK PRICE – Price being sought for a security by the seller. Also called an offer.

ASK YIELD – The return an investor would receive on a security, typically a Treasury, if the investor paid the ask price.

ASSESSED VALUATION or ASSESSED VALUE – The appraised value of a property as set by a taxing authority for purposes of ad valorem taxation. The method of establishing assessed valuation varies from state to state. For example, in certain jurisdictions the assessed valuation is equal to the full or market value of the property; in other jurisdictions the assessed valuation is equal to a percentage of full or market value or is based on a base year market value, subject to limited permitted increases. See: AD VALOREM TAX; MILLAGE.

ASSESSMENT BOND – See: SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BOND.

ASSIGNMENT – The form imprinted on a certificated security that, when completed and signed by the registered owner, authorizes the transfer of the security into the name of a new owner. Assignments are often executed by the registered owner “in blank,” with the name of the assignee filled in subsequently. See: CERTIFICATED SECURITY; REGISTERED BOND; TRANSFER. Compare: BOND POWER.

AUCTION AGENT – A financial institution responsible for conducting the Dutch auction used in connection with the periodic interest rate reset and remarketing of auction rate securities. See: AUCTION RATE SECURITIES; DUTCH AUCTION. Compare: PROGRAM DEALER; REMARKETING AGENT.

AUCTION MARKET – A market for securities, typically found on a national securities exchange, in which trading in a particular security is conducted at a particular electronic or physical venue. Historically, a physical venue would consist of a specific location with all qualified persons at that post able to bid or offer securities against orders via outcry. Compare: OVER-THE-COUNTER MARKET; TREASURY SECURITIES.

AUCTION RATE PREFERRED SECURITIES (ARPS) – Securities, in some cases issued by a tax-exempt bond fund, as preferred shares earning periodic dividend payments based on a rate of return determined through a Dutch auction procedure. Investment earnings realized by the bond fund are applied first to pay dividends on ARPS before being allocated to holders of common shares of the bond fund. See: BOND FUND; DUTCH AUCTION. Compare: AUCTION RATE SECURITIES.

AUCTION RATE SECURITIES – Variable rate bonds whose interest rate is reset periodically under the Dutch auction process. See: DUTCH AUCTION; VARIABLE RATE. Compare: AUCTION RATE PREFERRED SECURITIES.

AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENT – A financial statement that has been examined by an auditor and upon which the auditor has expressed or disclaimed an opinion. See: AUDIT REPORT; COMPREHENSIVE ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT. Compare: INTERIM PERIOD FINANCIAL STATEMENTS.

AUDIT REPORT – The report prepared by an auditor following its audit or investigation of an entity's financial position and results of operations for a given period of time. As a general rule, the report should include: (a) a statement of the scope of the audit; (b) explanatory comments concerning exceptions from generally accepted accounting principles and auditing standards; (c) expression or disclaimer of opinions; (d) explanatory comments concerning verification procedures; (e) financial statements and schedules; and (f) statistical tables, supplementary comments and recommendations. See: AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENT. Compare: INTERIM PERIOD FINANCIAL STATEMENTS.

AUTHENTICATION – A certification, usually by the trustee under a bond contract, appearing on a bond certificate attesting that the certificate is authentic.

AUTHORITY – A unit or agency of a government, or a separately established not-for-profit entity formed on behalf of a governmental entity, established to perform specialized functions. In some cases, authorities have the power to issue debt that is secured by the lease rental payments made by or other specified revenue of a governmental unit using the facilities constructed with bond proceeds. In other cases, authorities issue private activity bonds for the purpose of making the proceeds available to qualified private entities for use as permitted under the federal tax laws. Examples of such authorities include water and sewer, electric, health facilities, industrial development and housing finance authorities. An authority may function independently of other governmental units, or it may depend upon other units for its creation, funding or administrative oversight.

AUTHORIZED DENOMINATION – The par value at which a municipal security can be purchased as authorized by the bond contract. The bond contract typically provides that all purchases must be made in authorized denominations equal to the minimum denomination or in multiples of $5,000 above such minimum denomination. However, in some cases where bonds have large minimum denominations, authorized denominations may be based on larger multiples, such as multiples of $100,000. See: MINIMUM DENOMINATION.

AUTHORIZING ORDINANCE – See: AUTHORIZING RESOLUTION.

AUTHORIZING RESOLUTION – With respect to an issue of municipal securities, the document adopted by the issuer that implements its power to issue the securities. The legal grant of such authority may be found in the enabling provisions of the constitution, statutes, charters and ordinances applicable to the issuer. Adoption of an authorizing resolution by the issuer's governing body is a condition precedent to the issuance of the proposed securities. Typically, an issuer will be required to adopt a final "award" or "sale" resolution setting forth the specific terms of the offering. In certain jurisdictions, the governing body will act by means of an ordinance ("authorizing ordinance") rather than by resolution. See: BOND CONTRACT; BOND RESOLUTION; ORDINANCE; RESOLUTION. Compare: AWARD RESOLUTION; INDUCEMENT RESOLUTION; MASTER RESOLUTION; REIMBURSEMENT RESOLUTION.

AUTOMATED CUSTOMER ACCOUNT TRANSFER SERVICE (ACATS) – A service provided by National Securities Clearing Corporation used by financial institutions, including municipal securities dealers, to transfer customer accounts from one firm to another. See: NATIONAL SECURITIES CLEARING CORPORATION.

AVAILABLE REVENUES – The funds obligated for the payment of debt service and the making of other deposits required by the bond.

Gross Pledge or Gross Revenue Pledge – A pledge that all revenues received will be used for debt service prior to deductions for any other costs or expenses. Many bond contracts with gross revenue pledges have provisions permitting the bond trustee to use gross revenues to pay operating expenses prior to debt service.

Net Pledge or Net Revenue Pledge – A pledge that revenues less deductions for specified costs and expenses will be used for payment of debt service.

See: NET REVENUES.

AVERAGE ANNUAL DEBT SERVICE – See: DEBT SERVICE.

AVERAGE COUPON – A calculation of the total interest cost for a bond issue expressed as a percentage. The average coupon is equal to the total interest payments of an issue divided by bond year dollars.

AVERAGE LIFE – With respect to an issue of bonds, the weighted period of time required to repay half of the issue through scheduled principal payments (e.g., maturity, sinking fund redemption, etc.). The average life, also referred to as the “weighted average life” or “weighted average maturity” or “WAM,” is a reflection of the rapidity with which the principal of an issue is expected to be paid. Under one commonly used calculation method, average life is equal to the total bond years divided by the total number of bonds (one bond equals $1,000 par amount, regardless of actual denomination). Note that this computation method does not take into account the time value of the principal amounts. The formula for this computation is:

EXAMPLE:

For each maturity, bond years = amount maturing in that year X number of years from closing to maturity.

PERIOD	PRINCIPAL	BOND YEARS
1	2,000,000	2,000,000
2	4,000,000	8,000,000
3	6,000,000	18,000,000

$$\text{Average Life} = 28,000,000 / 12,000,000 = 2.333 \text{ years}$$

A bond that is bank qualified is also known as a “qualified tax-exempt obligation.”

Such assessments are typically repaid over time and may secure the repayment of special assessment bonds issued by local governments to fund the cost of the improvements. See: SPECIAL ASSESSMENT; SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BOND.

BID – A bona fide offer to purchase securities at a specified price and yield. In a competitive bid underwriting for a primary offering of municipal securities, a potential underwriter specifies the interest rate(s) for each maturity and the purchase price in its bid to purchase the issue. In the secondary market, a bid may be placed with a broker’s broker, on an alternative trading system or through other venues. The purchase price is usually stated in terms of par, par plus a premium or par minus a discount. See: AWARD; COMPETITIVE SALE. Compare: OFFER; QUALIFIED BID.

BOND CONTRACT – An agreement outlining the obligations of the issuer with respect to the issuance and repayment of bonds. The terms of the agreement may be determined by reference to specified documents associated with the bond issue. Typically, the bond resolution and/or trust indenture, together with any other security agreements, constitute parts of the contract, as do those laws in force at the time of issuance. The documents that form the bond contract vary according to the terms of each issue. See: BOND RESOLUTION; TRUST INDENTURE.

BOND COUNSEL – An attorney or law firm retained, typically by the issuer, to give the traditional bond counsel opinion. Such opinion customarily opines that the bonds have been validly issued and, if tax exemption is intended, that the bonds are tax-exempt bonds. In the case of insurance obtained at the time of issuance, the issuer of the policy typically is provided extensive rights under the bond contract to control remedies in the event of a default. See: BOND INSURER; CREDIT ENHANCEMENT; CREDIT FACILITY; SECONDARY INSURANCE; SURETY BOND.

BOND INSURER – An insurance company or consortium of insurance companies that issues bond insurance policies to guarantee the payment of principal of and/or interest on bonds. See: BOND INSURANCE.

BOND ORDINANCE – See: BOND RESOLUTION.

As is the case with an assignment, bond powers are often executed by the registered owner "in blank." See: REGISTERED BOND; TRANSFER. Compare: ASSIGNMENT.

BOND PREMIUM – See: ORIGINAL ISSUE PREMIUM.

BOND PROCEEDS – The money paid to the issuer by the purchaser or underwriter of a new issue of municipal securities. Issuance of the securities is usually approved in the authorizing resolution, and sale is usually authorized in a separate document known as the “sale” or “award” resolution. All such resolutions, read together, constitute the bond resolution, which describes the nature of the obligation, the issuer’s duties to the bondholders and the issuer’s rights with respect to the obligations and the security for the obligations. In certain jurisdictions, the governing body will act by means of an ordinance (“bond ordinance”) rather than by resolution. See: AUTHORIZING RESOLUTION; AWARD RESOLUTION; BOND CONTRACT; MASTER RESOLUTION; ORDINANCE; RESOLUTION. The number of bond years in an issue is equal to the product of the number of bonds (with one bond equal to $1,000 regardless of actual authorized denominations) and the number of years from the dated date (or other stated date) to the stated maturity. The total number of bond years is used in calculating the average life of an issue and its net interest cost. Computations are often made of bond years for each maturity or for each coupon rate, as well as total bond years for an entire issue. See: AVERAGE LIFE; NET INTEREST COST.

CALL PROTECTION – The aspects of the redemption provisions of an issue of callable bonds that partially protect an investor against an issuer's prepayment of the bonds prior to maturity or act as a disincentive to the issuer's exercise of its call privileges. These features may include restrictions on an issuer's right to call bonds for a period of time after issuance (for example, an issue that cannot be called for ten years after its issuance is said to have "ten years of call protection" or "ten-year no-call") or requirements that an issuer pay a premium call price for bonds called within a certain period of time after issuance. See: PREMIUM CALL PRICE; REDEMPTION PROVISIONS.

CAPITAL APPRECIATION BOND (CAB) – A municipal security on which the investment return on an initial principal amount is reinvested at a stated compounded rate until maturity. At maturity the investor receives a single payment (the “maturity value”) representing both the initial principal amount and the total investment return. CABs typically are sold at a deeply discounted price with maturity values in multiples of $5,000. CABs are distinct from traditional zero coupon bonds because the investment return is considered to be in the form of compounded interest rather than accreted original issue discount. For this reason only the initial principal amount of a CAB would be counted against a municipal issuer’s statutory debt limit, rather than the total par value, as in the case of a traditional zero coupon bond. See: COMPOUND ACCRETED VALUE. Compare: CURRENT INTEREST BOND; ZERO COUPON BOND.

CAPITALIZED INTEREST – A portion of the proceeds of an issue that is set aside to pay interest on the securities for a specified period of time. Capitalized interest is sometimes referred to as “funded interest.”

CAPITALIZED INTEREST ACCOUNT – An account under the bond contract in which a portion of the bond proceeds are deposited to pay capitalized interest on the bonds. See: CAPITALIZED INTEREST.

CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION (COP) – An instrument evidencing a pro rata share in a specific pledged revenue stream, usually lease payments by the issuer that are typically subject to annual appropriation. The certificate generally entitles the holder to receive a share, or participation, in the payments from a particular project. The payments are passed through the lessor to the certificate holders. The lessor typically assigns the lease and the payments to a trustee, which then distributes the payments to the certificate holders. See: ABATEMENT CLAUSE; LEASE-PURCHASE AGREEMENT; NON-APPROPRIATION CLAUSE; MUNICIPAL SECURITIES. Compare: LEASE RENTAL BOND.

In addition to handling its own transactions, a clearing broker can provide clearing agent services to other broker-dealers, such as introducing brokers and other market participants. A clearing broker may provide such back office and related recordkeeping functions on either a fully disclosed or omnibus basis. In a "fully disclosed" relationship, the introducing broker must disclose the identity and other relevant information regarding the client to the clearing broker. See: CLEARING AGENT; INTRODUCING BROKER.

CLOSING – The exchange of securities for payment in a new issue. This generally involves participation of representatives of the issuer, bond counsel, the underwriter and other relevant parties on the date of delivery of a new issue of municipal securities. On the closing date, the issuer delivers the securities and the requisite legal documents in exchange for the purchase price. In the case of book-entry securities, global certificates typically are delivered to a registered clearing agency in advance of closing, with the registered clearing agency effecting final delivery of the securities to the underwriter on the closing date by means of book entries. Sometimes a "pre-closing" is held before delivery, typically on the day preceding closing, to review the adequacy of the closing procedures and documents. See: DELIVERY DATE.

CODE – See: INTERNAL REVENUE CODE.

COLLAR – A swap agreement entered into by an issuer or obligor with a swap counterparty in connection with variable rate debt that combines an interest rate cap and an interest rate floor. Such arrangement is typically used to establish a minimum and maximum interest rate range that defines the payment obligations of the swap parties with respect to the swap. The obligor remains responsible for the payment of debt service on the bonds and typically will apply payments received under the collar to offset such payments. See: INTEREST RATE CAP; INTEREST RATE FLOOR.

COLLATERALIZED DEBT OBLIGATION (CDO) – Asset-backed securities consisting of securitized interests in pools of non-mortgage assets backed by bonds, loans, or other assets. The payments from the pool are applied to payments on the various classes of CDOs in a pre-determined order of priority.

Compare: CONCESSION; MARK-DOWN; MARK-UP.

COMMITMENT WIRE – A communication from the senior manager to syndicate members setting forth the final terms of a new issue of municipal securities sent prior to the award of the securities. Syndicate members will be committed to the underwriting at the terms set out in the wire unless such members withdraw as may be permitted in the agreement among underwriters or other mutual agreement. Compare: VERBAL AWARD; FORMAL AWARD.

The underwriting of securities in this manner is also referred to as a “public sale” or “competitive bid.” See: NOTICE OF SALE. Compare: NEGOTIATED SALE.

The compound accreted value as of a given time is equal to the initial principal amount plus the accretion (calculated on the compound interest method) to that date. A security’s compound accreted value may differ from its market value depending on current interest rates. A schedule of compound accreted values for a security often is made available to investors, such as in the official statement. See: ACCRETION OF DISCOUNT.

Municipal fund securities generally are issued in a continuous offering. See: COMMERCIAL PAPER; MUNICIPAL FUND SECURITIES; PRIMARY OFFERING.

CONTRACT CLAUSE – Federal and state constitutional provisions prohibiting state governments from enacting any law that impairs the obligation of an existing contract. The issue of contract impairment can arise with respect to municipal securities when action is taken or proposed that has the effect of reducing revenues pledged for payment of the securities or otherwise altering the security for their payment. Such action may be invalid as an unconstitutional impairment of the bondholders' contract with the issuer or obligor, unless the bond contract permits amendments of the security provisions or substitution of security.

CONTRA-PARTY or CONTRA-SIDE – The municipal securities dealer or customer to whom a person has sold municipal securities or from whom a person has purchased municipal securities.

CONVERGENCE – The tendency of the market value of a security to approach its redemption price or maturity value as the date of redemption or maturity draws nearer.

CONVEXITY – A measure of the price sensitivity of a fixed income security to changes in interest rates. "Convexity" refers to the shape of the price curve when graphed against theoretical interest rate points. Convexity is influenced by such factors as the coupon rate, maturity and any calls that may or may not exist. Prices rise at increasing rates as yields fall and prices decline at decreasing rates as yields rise. Compare: DURATION.

COUPON OR COUPON RATE – The periodic rate of interest, usually calculated as an annual rate payable on a security expressed as a percentage of the principal amount. Compare: CURRENT YIELD; EFFECTIVE INTEREST RATE; YIELD TO MATURITY.

COVENANT or BOND COVENANT – Contractual obligations set forth in a bond contract. Covenants commonly made in connection with a bond issue may include covenants to charge fees sufficient to provide required pledged revenues (called a “rate covenant”); to maintain casualty insurance on the project; to complete, maintain and operate the project; not to sell or encumber the project; not to issue parity bonds or other indebtedness unless certain tests are met (“additional bonds” or “additional indebtedness” covenant); and not to take actions that would cause tax-exempt interest on the bonds to become taxable or otherwise become arbitrage bonds (“tax covenants”). A covenant whereby a party is affirmatively obligated to undertake a duty in order to protect the interests of bondholders (e.g., to maintain insurance) is referred to as an “affirmative” or “protective covenant.” A covenant whereby the issuer obligates itself to refrain from performing certain actions (e.g., not to sell the project) is referred to as a “negative covenant.”

COVER – The difference between the winning bid on a new issue or secondary market transaction and the next highest bid. The cover bid on a new issue is most often expressed in terms of the difference in the interest cost (in either basis point or gross dollar terms); on secondary market transactions it may be expressed in terms of basis points or dollars per bond. See: COVER BID.

COVER BID – The next highest bid on a new issue or secondary market transaction that has been put out to bid.

COVERAGE – The ratio of available revenues available annually to pay debt service over the annual debt service requirement. This ratio is one indication of the availability of revenues for payment of debt service. The formula for determining coverage, often referred to as “debt service coverage” or the “coverage ratio,” is as follows:

	Coverage	=	$\frac{\text{Available Revenues}}{\text{Debt Service Requirement}}$
EXAMPLE:	Coverage	=	$\frac{$2,000,000}{$1,200,000}$	= 1.66

See: ADDITIONAL BONDS COVENANT; DEBT SERVICE; PLEDGED REVENUES.

COVERAGE RATIO – See: COVERAGE.

This term typically is used in the context of bond insurance, bank letters of credit and other facilities, state intercept guarantees and credit programs of federal or state governments or federal agencies, but also may refer more broadly to the use of any form of guaranty, secondary source of payment or similar additional credit-improving instruments. See: BOND INSURANCE; CREDIT FACILITY; LETTER OF CREDIT; SECONDARY INSURANCE; SURETY BOND.

CREDIT FACILITY – An instrument that provides credit enhancement. See: CREDIT ENHANCEMENT. Compare: LIQUIDITY FACILITY.

Such securities sometimes are said to be placed on a “watchlist” or on “rating watch.” See: DOWNGRADE; RATING AGENCY; RATINGS; UPGRADE.

A bond with a current coupon would be trading at a price close to par and would have a yield to maturity approximately equal to its coupon rate. See: COUPON RATE.

CURRENT INTEREST BOND – A bond on which interest payments are made to the bondholders on a periodic basis. This term is most often used in the context of an issue of bonds that includes both capital appreciation bonds and current interest bonds. Compare: CAPITAL APPRECIATION BOND; DISCOUNTED SECURITY; ZERO COUPON BOND.

CURRENT REFUNDING – A refunding transaction where the municipal securities being refunded will all mature or be redeemed within 90 days or less from the date of issuance of the refunding issue. Certain federal income tax rules relating to permitted yields of invested proceeds of the refunding issue, rebate of arbitrage earnings and the ability to refund certain types of municipal securities may be less restrictive in the case of current refundings as contrasted with advance refundings. Compare: ADVANCE REFUNDING.

CURRENT YIELD – The ratio of the annual dollar amount of interest paid on a security to the purchase price or market price of the security, stated as a percentage. For example, a $1,000 bond purchased at par with a 5 percent coupon pays $50 per year, or a current yield of 5 percent. The same bond, if purchased at a discount price of $800, would have a current yield of 6.25 percent. A $1,000 bond purchased at a premium price of $1,200 would have a current yield of 4.1 percent. Compare: YIELD TO CALL; YIELD TO MATURITY.

CUSHION BOND – A bond trading with a coupon rate higher than the then prevailing coupon rates, and therefore trading at a higher dollar price. Such bonds are typically priced to the call and create a substantially higher yield to maturity as compared to yield to call. The bond “cushions” because the dollar value of one basis point (.01) priced to the call is less than if priced to maturity; therefore, the volatility is reduced. See: KICKER BOND.

CUSIP NUMBER – An identification number assigned by the CUSIP Service Bureau to each maturity of an issue intended to help facilitate the identification and clearance of securities. In some cases, separate CUSIP numbers may be assigned to different portions of a maturity that bear different interest rates or where differences exist in the terms of the securities of such maturity that may impair the fungibility of the securities within the maturity. For example, if a portion of a maturity has been advance refunded and the remaining portion remains outstanding, each portion will be assigned a separate CUSIP number. CUSIP is an acronym for Committee on Uniform Securities Identification Procedures.

CUSTODIAL RECEIPTS – Secondary market products that represent an indirect interest in a taxable or tax-exempt bond or a pool of bonds held by a custodian.

The term "debenture" may also refer to the bond contract that governs the issuance of the instrument and the covenants relating thereto.

DEBT LIMIT – The maximum principal amount of debt that an issuer of municipal securities is permitted to have outstanding at any time under constitutional, statutory or bond contract provisions. The debt limit can be expressed in various manners, including, for example, as a percentage of assessed valuation.

DEBT RATIOS – Comparative statistics showing the relationship between the issuer's outstanding debt and such factors as its tax base, income or population. Such ratios are often used in the process of determining credit quality of an issue, primarily on general obligation bonds or other tax-supported debt. Some of the more commonly used ratios are (a) net overall debt to assessed valuation, (b) net overall debt to estimated full valuation, (c) net overall debt per capita, and (d) tax-supported debt to personal income. See: BONDED DEBT; PER CAPITA DEBT.

This amount is also known as the "debt service requirement." "Annual debt service" refers to the total principal and interest required to be paid in a calendar year, fiscal year, or bond fiscal year. "Total debt service" refers to the total principal and interest paid throughout the life of a bond issue. "Average annual debt service" refers to the average debt service payable each year on an issue. "Maximum annual debt service" refers to the amount of debt service for the year in which the greatest amount of debt

A typical debt service reserve fund requirement (sometimes referred to as the “reserve fund requirement” or “reserve requirement”) might be a fixed percent of the outstanding par value or the maximum annual debt service of the issue. The size and investment of the debt service reserve fund generally is subject to arbitrage regulations. See: FLOW OF FUNDS – Debt Service Reserve Fund.

DEFAULT – A failure to pay principal of or interest on a bond when due or a failure to comply with other covenant, promise or duty imposed by the bond contract. The most serious event of default, sometimes referred to as a “monetary” default, occurs when the issuer fails to pay principal, interest or other funds when due. Other defaults, sometimes referred to as technical or non-payment defaults, result when specifically defined events occur, such as failure to comply with bond contract covenants, failing to charge rates sufficient to meet rate covenants, failing to maintain insurance on the project or failing to fund various reserves. Generally, if a monetary default occurs or if a technical default is not cured within a specified period (usually after notice) such default becomes an event of default and the bondholders or trustee may exercise legally available rights and remedies for enforcement of the bond contract. See: ACCELERATION.

DEFEASANCE or DEFEASED – Termination of certain of the rights and interests of the bondholders and of their lien on the pledged revenues or other security in accordance with the terms of the bond contract for an issue of securities. This is sometimes referred to as a “legal defeasance.” Defeasance usually occurs in connection with the refunding of an outstanding issue after provision has been made for future payment of all obligations related to the outstanding bonds, sometimes from funds provided by the issuance of a new series of bonds. In some cases, particularly where the bond contract does not provide a procedure for termination of these rights, interests and lien other than through payment of all outstanding debt in full, funds deposited for future payment of the debt may make the pledged revenues available for other purposes without effecting a legal defeasance. This is sometimes referred to as an “economic defeasance” or “financial defeasance.” If for some reason the funds deposited in an economic or financial defeasance prove insufficient to make future payment of the outstanding debt, the issuer would continue to be legally obligated to make payment on such debt from the pledged revenues. See: ADVANCE REFUNDING.

DE MINIMIS DISCOUNT– The amount of discount, sometimes referred to as the “cut-off price,” at which, for federal income tax purposes, interest on an original issue discount bond is not required to be included as income in advance of receipt. The call rights granted to the third party by such option often are structured consistently with the typical optional redemption provisions of municipal securities that may not carry detachable calls. Although from the bondholder's perspective the terms of a security with a detachable call may be identical to a security that has optional redemption provisions that are not detachable, the bondholder may perceive that the likelihood of an optional call being exercised is altered by the fact that the power to exercise such call is held by a person or entity other than the issuer. See: REDEMPTION PROVISIONS; TENDER OPTION.

Common examples include airports, water and sewer systems and power supply systems. See: ENTERPRISE FUND; SELF-SUPPORTING DEBT.

ENTERPRISE FUND – A fund established by a governmental entity to account for operations of an enterprise activity. Issuers may sometimes authorize the provision of a surety bond or letter of credit to satisfy the debt service reserve fund requirement in lieu of cash. If the debt service reserve fund is used in whole or part to pay debt service, the issuer usually is required to replenish the fund from the first available revenues, or in periodic repayments over a specified period of time. See: DEBT SERVICE RESERVE FUND REQUIREMENT.

Commercial paper (CP) – Short-term obligations issued by municipal entities usually backed by a line of credit with a bank that mature within 270 days. The issuer typically pays maturing principal of outstanding commercial paper with newly issued commercial paper, referred to as a “roll over,” thereby borrowing funds on a short-term basis for an extended period of time. Rate reset periods may vary from one to 270 days and different portions of a single issue of commercial paper may simultaneously have different reset periods.

Construction loan notes (CLNs) – Notes issued to fund construction of projects (typically housing projects). CLNs are repaid by the permanent financing, which may be provided from bond proceeds or some pre-arranged commitment.

The length of the order period is usually determined by the manager. In a negotiated sale, the order period is the period of time established by the manager during which orders are accepted. The order period in a negotiated sale generally precedes the purchase of the issue by the underwriters from the issuer and is the period during which orders will be solicited for the purchase of securities in the primary offering. At times, order periods are established at subsequent points in the life of a syndicate. Such subsequent order periods may occur when securities are repriced or market conditions change. In some offerings, a “retail order period” may be designated during which orders will be accepted solely for retail customers, as defined by the issuer (or, in some cases, small orders for any type of customers). See: PRIORITY PROVISIONS.

ORDINANCE – An official action of the governing body of an issuer, typically enacted by a vote of the members of the governing body at a public meeting. The procedures for enacting an ordinance are often more formal than those for adopting a resolution. Some jurisdictions permit the incurrence of debt through adoption of a resolution while others require enactment of an ordinance. Compare: RESOLUTION.

ORIGINAL ISSUE DISCOUNT (OID) – The discount from par value at the time the bond or other debt is issued. It is the difference between the stated issue price and the redemption price at maturity. The original issue discount is amortized over the life of the security and is generally treated as tax-exempt interest. When the investor sells the security before maturity, any profit or loss realized on such sale is calculated (for tax purposes) on the adjusted book value. The adjusted book value is calculated for each year the security is outstanding by adding the accretion value to the original offering price. The amount of the accretion value (and the existence and total amount of original issue discount) is determined in accordance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and the rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Service. See: ACCRETION OF DISCOUNT; COMPOUND ACCRETED VALUE; DISCOUNT. Compare: MARKET DISCOUNT BOND.

ORIGINAL ISSUE PREMIUM – The amount by which the public offering price of a security at the time of its original issuance exceeded its par value. The original issue premium is amortized over the life of the security and results in an adjustment to the basis of the security. Original issue premium generally is not deductible for federal income tax purposes. The amount of original issue premium received by the issuer in a primary offering, also known as the “bond premium,” is generally treated as proceeds of the issue. See: AMORTIZATION OF PREMIUM. Compare: ORIGINAL ISSUE DISCOUNT.

ORIGINAL ISSUE PRICE – See: INITIAL OFFERING PRICE.

PRICING ADVISOR – A consultant who provides a fairness letter to an issuer or its agent regarding the fairness of the pricing of a new issue of municipal securities. See: FAIRNESS LETTER; MUNICIPAL ADVISOR. Compare: FINANCIAL ADVISOR.

PRICING WIRE – The means by which the structure and pricing for a primary offering of municipal securities is disseminated to the syndicate. It is a series of communications between the senior manager and selling group members that establish the terms of the underwriting, the initial pricing, the priority of orders, and the order period for a primary offering of municipal securities.

For competitive underwritings, orders received prior to the sale ("pre-sale orders") generally are given top priority. In some negotiated offerings, retail orders or other restrictions designated by the issuer are given priority. Once the order period begins for either negotiated or competitive underwritings, the most common priority provision gives group net orders top priority, followed by net designated orders and member orders. These types of orders are described below:

Net Designated Order – An order submitted by a syndicate member on behalf of a buyer on which all or a portion of the takedown is to be credited to certain members of the syndicate. The buyer directs the percentage of the total designation each member will receive in accordance with the terms of the underwriting syndicate.

PRIVATE ACTIVITY BOND (PAB) – A municipal security of which the proceeds are used by one or more private entities. A municipal security is considered a private activity bond if it meets two sets of conditions set out in Section 141 of the Internal Revenue Code. A municipal security is a private activity bond if, with certain exceptions, more than 10 percent of the proceeds of the issue are used for any private business use (the “private business use test”) and the payment of the principal of or interest on more than 10 percent of the proceeds of such issue is secured by or payable from property used for a private business use (the “private security or payment test”). A municipal security also is a private activity bond if, with certain exceptions, the amount of proceeds of the issue used to make loans to non-governmental borrowers exceeds the lesser of 5 percent of the proceeds or $5 million (the “private loan financing test”). Interest on private activity bonds is not excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes unless the bonds fall within certain defined categories (“qualified bonds” or “qualified private activity bonds”), as described below. Most categories of qualified private activity bonds are subject to the alternative minimum tax. The following categories of private activity bonds are qualified bonds under current federal tax laws:

Qualified small issue bonds may be issued on a tax-exempt basis in an amount up to $1 million, taking into account certain prior issues, or an amount up to $10 million, taking into account certain capital expenditures incurred during the three years prior and the three years following the issuance of such bonds.

Qualified student loan bonds – Private activity bonds issued to finance student loans for attendance at higher education institutions.

Qualified veterans' mortgage bonds – Private activity bonds that are general obligations of a state issued to fund mortgage loans to finance owner-occupied residential property for veterans. PRIVATE LOAN FINANCING TEST – See: PRIVATE ACTIVITY BOND.

PRIVATE PLACEMENT – A primary offering in which a placement agent sells a new issue of municipal securities on behalf of the issuer directly to investors on an agency basis rather than by purchasing the securities from the issuer and reselling them to investors. Investors purchasing privately placed securities often are required to agree to restrictions as to resale and are sometimes requested or required to provide a private placement letter to that effect. See: DIRECT LOAN; INVESTOR LETTER; PLACEMENT AGENT. Compare: LIMITED OFFERING.

PRIVATE PLACEMENT LETTER – See: INVESTOR LETTER.

PROVISIONAL RATING – An indication of what the credit quality of an issue is expected to be after a construction or interim period is concluded. The provisional rating does not, however, represent a judgment of what might happen if problems are experienced during the construction or interim period, or of the likelihood of such problems occurring. Provisional ratings are typically assigned when the debt service on an issue is secured solely by revenues to be derived from a project whose construction is financed by the issue; the rating remains provisional until the construction is completed and the project has begun to generate the revenues. These types of ratings are sometimes referred to as “conditional ratings.” See: RATINGS; UNDERLYING RATING.

REDEMPTION – A process by which the issuer repays to the bondholder of an outstanding security the principal amount thereof (plus, in certain cases, an additional amount representing a redemption premium) and any accrued interest on the security to the date of redemption. Although the term is normally used in connection with the issuer exercising a right under the bond contract to repay the security prior to its scheduled maturity date (often referred to as a “call”), the payment of a bond at maturity is also a redemption. Redemption provisions in the bond contract for a security may provide the issuer the right to retire the debt fully or partially before the scheduled maturity date. See: REDEMPTION PROVISIONS. Compare: TENDER OPTION.

REDEMPTION DATE – See: CALL DATE.

REDEMPTION FUND – See: FLOW OF FUNDS – Mandatory Redemption Fund.

REDEMPTION PREMIUM – An amount paid to the bondholder called for redemption in addition to the principal amount of (and any accrued interest on) the security. Redemption premiums typically are paid only in the case of certain optional redemptions. See: PREMIUM CALL PRICE; REDEMPTION; REDEMPTION PROVISIONS.

REDEMPTION PRICE – See: CALL PRICE.

REDEMPTION PROVISIONS – The terms of the bond contract, sometimes referred to as “call or prepayment provisions,” giving the issuer the right to redeem or call (an “optional redemption”), or requiring the issuer to redeem or call (a “mandatory redemption”), all (an “in-whole redemption”) or a portion (a “partial redemption”) of an outstanding issue of bonds prior to its stated date of maturity. Bonds may be redeemed at a specified price, usually at par or accreted value in the case of original issue discount bonds or zero coupon bonds (a “par call”) or above par or accreted value (a “premium call”), plus any accrued interest to the redemption date. Issuers may be limited to redeeming bonds on interest payment dates (an “any-interest-date redemption”) or may be permitted to redeem bonds on any date (an “any time or continuous call”).

Optional redemptions often can be exercised only on or after a specified date, typically for a municipal security beginning approximately ten years after the issue date. Some types of mandatory redemptions occur either on a scheduled basis (made in specified amounts or in amounts then on deposit in the sinking fund) or whenever a specified amount of money is available in the sinking fund (“sinking fund redemptions”). In addition, the occurrence of certain one-time or extraordinary events specified in the bond contract (an “extraordinary redemption”) may trigger an optional (an “extraordinary optional redemption”) or mandatory redemption (an “extraordinary mandatory redemption”). An extraordinary redemption may be triggered by, among other things, bond proceeds remaining unexpended by a specified date (an “unexpended proceeds redemption”), a determination that interest on the bonds is taxable (a “tax call”), a change in use of a project financed with bond proceeds that would cause interest on the bonds to become taxable (a “change in use call”), a failure of the issuer to appropriate funds needed to pay debt service on lease rental bonds or certificates of participation that are subject to appropriation (an “appropriation or non-appropriation call”), or the destruction of the facilities from which the bonds are payable (a “calamity or catastrophe call”).

In a partial redemption of an issue, the maturities from which bonds will be redeemed (a) may be selected in maturity or inverse maturity order, or (b) may be made from all or selected maturities in a manner designed to maintain a desired debt service payment characteristic with respect to the bonds that remain outstanding (a “strip call”), or (c) may be selected in the discretion of the issuer or conduit borrower. Where a particular maturity of an issue is subject to partial redemption, the specific bonds to be redeemed may be selected by lot or (if the bonds are certificated) in numerical or inverse numerical order.

REFUNDED BONDS or REFUNDED ISSUE – See: PRIOR ISSUE.

REFUNDING – A procedure whereby an issuer refinances outstanding bonds by issuing new bonds. There are generally two major reasons for refunding: to reduce the issuer’s interest costs or to remove a burdensome or restrictive covenant imposed by the terms of the bonds being refinanced. The proceeds of the new bonds are either deposited in escrow to pay the debt service on the outstanding bonds when due in an “advance refunding” or used to promptly (typically within 90 days) retire the outstanding bonds in a “current refunding.” The new bonds are referred to as the “refunding bonds,” and the outstanding bonds being refinanced are referred to as the “refunded bonds” or the “prior issue.”

Generally, refunded bonds are not considered a part of the issuer's debt because the lien of the holders of the refunded bonds, in the first instance, is on the escrowed funds, not on the originally pledged source of revenues. See: ADVANCE REFUNDING; CURRENT REFUNDING; DEFEASANCE.

REFUNDING BONDS or REFUNDING ISSUE – Bonds issued to defease outstanding bonds. Compare: PRIOR ISSUE.

REGISTERED BOND – A bond whose owner is designated on records maintained by a registrar, the ownership of which cannot be transferred without the registrar recording the transfer on its records. Bonds initially issued as bearer bonds may be “registered as to principal only.” In this form, coupons reflecting the interest payments due remain attached to the bonds and must be detached and redeemed in order to receive the interest due. See: BOND REGISTER; FULLY REGISTERED. Modern stickering usually takes the form of a separate supplemental document. See: OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

STREET NAME – The registration of municipal securities in the name of a municipal securities dealer or nominee. TAXABLE BOND – See: TAXABLE SECURITY.

TAXABLE EQUIVALENT YIELD – The interest rate that must be received on a taxable security to provide the bondholder the same after-tax return as that earned on a tax-exempt bond. Because interest earned on municipal securities generally is not subject to federal income taxation, a tax-exempt bond does not have to yield to a bondholder as much as a taxable security to produce an equivalent after-tax yield; this differential is attributable to the effect of the tax liability incurred by the bondholder if it held a taxable security. The taxable equivalent yield varies according to the bondholder's marginal federal income tax bracket and, where applicable, any state or local tax liability as well. The formula for determining the taxable equivalent yield is:

$$\text{Taxable Equivalent Yield} = \frac{\text{Tax-Exempt Yield}}{100\% - \text{Marginal Tax Bracket}}$$

WORKABLE – A price at which a municipal securities dealer states its potential willingness to purchase securities. A municipal securities dealer giving a workable is free to revise its price for the securities if market conditions change. See: SUBJECT BID. Compare: FIRM OR FIRM PRICE; INDICATION.

WORKOUT BID – See: WORKABLE.

WRITE-DOWN – In cases where the market value of securities has declined since their acquisition for accounting purposes, the difference between the cost at which the securities were acquired and their current market value. See: MARK-TO-MARKET.

WRITTEN AWARD – See: FORMAL AWARD.

YIELD – The annual rate of return on an investment, based on the purchase price of the investment, its coupon rate and the length of time the investment is held. The yield of a municipal security moves inversely to the price. See: INTEREST RATE; PRICE.

YIELD BURNING – In an advance refunding, the sale to an issuer of securities (typically Treasury securities) at above-market prices to be held in escrow for the purpose of reducing the yield on those securities to avoid arbitrage regulations. The SEC and Internal Revenue Service view such practice as illegal. See: ADVANCE REFUNDING; ARBITRAGE.

YIELD CURVE – A graph that plots market yields on securities of equivalent quality but different maturities at a given point in time. The vertical axis represents the yields, while the horizontal axis depicts time to maturity. The relationship of interest rates over time, as reflected by the yield curve, will vary according to market conditions, resulting in a variety of yield curve configurations, as follows:

Normal or Positive Yield Curve – Indicates that short-term securities have a lower interest rate than long-term securities.

Inverted or Negative Yield Curve – Reflects the situation of short-term rates exceeding long-term rates.

Flat Yield Curve – Reflects the situation when short- and long-term rates are approximately the same.

Humpbacked or Bell-Shaped Yield Curve – An unusual shape, indicating that rates are low in the early years, peak in the middle years and decline in later years.

YIELD PRICE – See: BASIS PRICE.

YIELD REDUCTION PAYMENT – A payment permitted by the tax regulations in certain situations made by an issuer to the federal government in order to reduce the yield on investment of bond proceeds to meet yield restriction requirements under the Internal Revenue Code and thereby protect the tax-exempt status of the bonds. See: ARBITRAGE; YIELD RESTRICTION. Compare: ARBITRAGE REBATE.

YIELD RESTRICTION – A general requirement under the Internal Revenue Code that proceeds of tax-exempt bonds not be used to make investments at a higher yield than the yield on the bonds. The Internal Revenue Code provides certain exceptions, such as for investment of bond proceeds for reasonable temporary periods pending expenditure and investments held in “reasonably required” debt service reserve funds. See: ARBITRAGE.

YIELD TO AVERAGE LIFE – The yield calculation used, in lieu of yield to worst, where bonds are retired systematically during the life of the issue, as is the case with a sinking fund. See: YIELD TO SINKER; YIELD TO WORST.

YIELD TO CALL – The rate of return to the investor earned from payments of principal and interest, with interest compounded semi-annually at the stated yield, presuming that the security is redeemed on a specified call date (if the security is redeemed at a premium call price, the amount of the premium is also reflected in the yield). Yield to call takes into account the amount of the premium or discount at the time of purchase, if any, and the time value of the investment. Compare: CURRENT YIELD; YIELD TO MATURITY; YIELD TO WORST.

YIELD TO MATURITY – The rate of return to the investor earned from payments of principal and interest, with interest compounded semi-annually at the stated yield, presuming that the security remains outstanding until the maturity date. Yield to maturity takes into account the amount of the premium or discount at the time of purchase, if any, and the time value of the investment. Compare: CURRENT YIELD; YIELD TO CALL; YIELD TO WORST.

YIELD TO PUT OPTION OR YIELD TO PUT – The rate of return to the investor, presuming that the security is put back to the issuer or its agent (or a third party) by the investor on a specified date in accordance with the terms of a put option granted by the issuer (or the third party). The investment return reflected in the yield consists of the return of the principal (or the portion of the principal amount payable upon the exercise of the put) and payment of the interest (with the interest compounded semi-annually) to the put date. Compare: YIELD TO CALL.

YIELD TO SINKER – The rate of return to the investor earned from payments of principal and interest, with interest compounded semi-annually at the stated yield, presuming that the security is redeemed on the next scheduled sinking fund date. Compare: YIELD TO AVERAGE LIFE.

YIELD TO WORST – For a given dollar price on a municipal security, the lowest of the yield calculated to the pricing call, par option or maturity. Compare: YIELD TO CALL; YIELD TO MATURITY.

ZERO COUPON BOND – An original issue discount bond on which no periodic interest payments are made but which is issued at a substantial discount from par, accreting (at the rate represented by the offering yield at issuance) to its full value at maturity. See: COMPOUND ACCRETED VALUE; ORIGINAL ISSUE DISCOUNT; ORIGINAL ISSUE DISCOUNT BOND. Compare: CAPITAL APPRECIATION BOND; CURRENT INTEREST BOND.

10b-5 OPINION – A letter of counsel, sometimes referred to as a due diligence opinion, generally based upon an investigation of specified facts and addressing the accuracy and completeness of the official statement. A due diligence opinion addressed to an underwriter by underwriter’s counsel customarily states that, based on certain specified inquiries, nothing has come to such counsel’s attention indicating that the official statement contains any misstatements of material facts or any material omissions. An opinion by counsel to an issuer or conduit borrower may use similar or different language to address the adequacy and accuracy of the disclosure made. See: DUE DILIGENCE; FULL DISCLOSURE; MATERIAL OMISSION; RULE 10b-5.

Examples include not-for-profit colleges and universities, hospitals, museums and retirement communities. See: CONDUIT BORROWER; CONDUIT FINANCING; PRIVATE ACTIVITY BOND – Qualified 501(c)(3) bonds.

529 COLLEGE SAVINGS PLAN – A program, sometimes referred to as a “college savings plan,” established by a state as a “qualified tuition program” pursuant to Section 529 of the Internal Revenue Code. Under a 529 college savings plan, a person may make contributions to an account established for the purpose of meeting the qualified higher education expenses of the designated beneficiary of the account. Contributions generally are used to acquire shares or units in a state trust, with trust assets invested in a manner consistent with the trust’s stated investment objectives. Shares or units typically constitute municipal fund securities. Under current federal tax law, earnings from a 529 college savings plan used for qualified higher education expenses of the designated beneficiary are excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes. See: DESIGNATED BENEFICIARY; 529 PLAN; MUNICIPAL FUND SECURITY; QUALIFIED HIGHER EDUCATION EXPENSES. Compare: PRE-PAID TUITION PLAN.

529 PLAN – A generic term for a “qualified tuition program” established under Section 529 of the Internal Revenue Code. Both 529 college savings plans and pre-paid tuition plans are considered 529 plans, although the term sometimes is used to refer exclusively to 529 college savings plans. See: 529 COLLEGE SAVINGS PLAN; PRE-PAID TUITION PLAN.
